

Bryan McNulty

Assistant Director of Int'l Sales
Musco Sports Lighting

Bryan began his career at Musco Lighting in 1993 as a developmental lighting design engineer. The developmental engineering team worked on high profile projects and special events. These included professional stadiums, racetracks, golf courses, and Olympics events. For the 2004 Olympics, Bryan took on the role of the senior designer for 23 competitions at 18 facilities. His technical background made for a fluid transition into sales management, where he has worked for the last 18 years as Assistant Director of International Sales.

Bryan has helped Musco build their international business profile in Asia, Europe, and Latin America, developing and maintaining business operations. Bryan has a passion for international development that allows him to bring Musco solutions to the world stage, and he enjoys learning from the many cultures and communities that Musco works with on a daily basis. Having spent over a quarter of a century supporting Musco's international operations and project development in over 70 countries, Bryan has developed a strong understanding of the needs of organizations around the world.

Bryan is married with four children and eight grandchildren. Outside of work he enjoys scuba diving, wood working, hiking and vacations with his wife of 24yrs.
