Miguel Carranza is a Vice President at Alliant and has over two decades in the Trade Credit and Political Risk Insurance industry and brings diverse experience as a seasoned professional supporting specialized payment and investment risks. Many of his clients benefit from his knowledge of the Latin American market. He holds a Business Management degree and an MBA from West Texas A&M University. Prior to joining One Source, Miguel spent over sixteen years as a partner at International Risk Consultants (IRC), and three years at Motorola in Chicago. He is fluent in English, Spanish, Portuguese, and has some working knowledge of Japanese and Mandarin. Miguel is a member of the Houston District Export Council, appointed by the Secretary of Commerce, where he has served as Treasurer and most recently was elected to the National DEC. He is also a member of the National Chemical Credit Association (NCCA) and Interserve. Miguel participates every year at The Export Import Bank Conference in Washington DC, as he is a big supporter of the program. He received an EXIM Broker Award in 2020 and is a member of the EXIM Broker Advisory Board. His career has taken him all over the world to countries in Asia, Europe, and South America. As a big soccer fan, he also recently attended the 2018 World Cup in Russia supporting his native beloved country: Peru. Miguel resides in Katy with his wife, Sandra and his son, Tadeo.
